Student

You are green and are fond of people who take care of our planet. If you see that somebody does not behave respectfully to nature and the people living on this planet, you do not hesitate to address this person by reprimanding him/her.

You are walking in the park with your classmates and then you see your class teacher walking his/her dog. According to the legislation, dog walkers are expected to clean up after their animals. You see your teacher does not take a plastic bag from his/her pocket to pick up the dog's excrements and pretends that nothing has happened. You become angry and decide to make your teacher clean up after his/her dog.

You know that you should behave politely. Start your conversation: "Good evening, Mr/Ms XYZ. My friends and I are just admiring this park, which enables our citizens and mainly children to..."

English teacher

You are walking your dog in the park. You are aware of your duty to clean up after your dog, but you have forgotten to take a plastic bag with you. Your dog has just fouled the grass and you are hesitant what to do as you do not have anything with you to deal with this situation. You therefore pretend that nothing has happened and decide to leave nonchalantly when you are addressed by one of your students.

Look at the pictures and choose three depicting animals you would like to meet in the wild.

While discussing, follow these bullet points:

- explain why you have chosen those ones,
- say what the advantages and disadvantages of meeting these animals in the wild might be,
- mention whether you have ever experienced anything dangerous/funny with such an animal.

L I S T E N I N G T A P E S C R I P T (Please read once.)

You will hear a text about the judging panel of Britain's Got Talent. For questions 01-05, decide whether the statements are true (T) or false (F).

The Britain's Got Talent gang are back to brighten up our Saturday nights with fun and crazy acts. And Alesha Dixon is again taking up a spot on the judging panel with Simon Cowell, Amanda Holden and David Walliams. Woman's Own caught up with Alesha, 36, who lives in London with her partner, Azuka, and their daughter, Azura, 18 months, for all the BGT gossip and to learn why she definitely does not want her friend Amanda to leave the show...

How annoying has David been since winning the TV Judge award at the NTAs?

Oh, he's been constantly going on about it! At the start of the audition, he kept putting his award on the desk. If anyone disagreed with him, he'd put it on the desk and say, "The people have spoken..."

We hear he's been winding Simon up...

Yes, he has. At first we all thought it was funny, but after a while we were like, "OMG, not this again." It's wound Simon up but he has found it funny, too. I am sure Simon would have liked to have won the award but he was very gracious by accepting it on David's behalf.

Were you all looking forward to coming back together again?

Yes, it's like a little family! We all have different tastes but we all love it. You have your tense, fun and crazy moments. It's like a crazy show of greatness and a big family programme that everyone loves. I am having the time of my life doing it.

Have you still got a judge's crèche? Who looks after the little ones?

Simon and I have brought Eric [his son, 13 months] and Azura to the auditions. Azura hasn't actually been in the audition hall but she has been with me. My mum or my partner look after her when I am filming. Simon has been really cool this year. Is it the influence of Lauren [Silverman, his partner] and Eric? Maybe it is... But I love being around Azura. She has started saying "Mummy" now and I never get tired of hearing that.

You're slimmer now than before you had Azura. Is that because you're running around after her?

I do run around a lot, yes, and I think it is a lot to do with the adrenaline rush. I am always on the go.

How do you maintain your figure?

I work out with a trainer once a week and I make sure I look after myself. But I've never been one for diets and I have never set out to lose weight. Nor have I felt pressure to. I've always tried to eat healthily. I am always snacking on olives and nuts and I always want to put good fuel in my body.

Has Amanda got you into juicing?

I do juicing myself anyway – not to diet! It's a great way of getting lots of good vitamins down you all in one go. For instance, this morning I had a ginger shot as I was feeling tired and I had a little sore throat. And it did give me an energy boost.

Are you excited about choosing your live show wardrobe?

Yes, I love that part of the show. Amanda has already sorted her outfits out but I've been very busy with work. I haven't had any fittings yet but I am hoping to over the next few weeks. My stylist, Laury, is great and I know we will do a massive day where I try on lots of outfits.

Amanda has said that next year is going to be her last series. How does that make you feel?

Sad! I hope she doesn't leave as we get on so well and she is so much fun. We have such a laugh together and we will always gang up together against Simon and David. I don't want anyone else to sit next to me – I just want Amanda to sit next to me!
