Read the article below. There are two (2) tasks to do at the end.

1. _____ A gang is a group of teens and young adults that hang out together and are often involved in illegal activity. "Crime is an essential part of the group's identity," says University of Leicester expert Kate B.

2. _____ Many experts think that young people join gangs as a result of social problems. These problems include single parent families and negative role models like rap stars who glamorise guns and violence. Henry, a presenter on Colourful Radio, a talk station for London's black community, says his listeners believe the problem is complex: "Some young people say they have nothing to do. Others say that their parents haven't shown them leadership."

3. _____ Gang members are very likely to own a gun, and they are 60 times more likely to be killed than the average teen. Violence between rival gangs is common. "There's a general consensus that there are links between gangs, guns and drugs," says expert Kate B.

4. _____ The British Government has introduced new laws to fight gun crime and gangs, including a five-year prison sentence for anyone under 18 caught with an illegal gun. Schools have banned clothing associated with gangs, such as hooded tops, wristbands and baseball caps. Many schemes have started in communities throughout the UK. A south London group "From Boyhood to Manhood" provides yoga and martial arts classes for school drop-outs. "Lots of boys want a way out of gangs," says the project adviser.

5. _____ No. Gun crime and crime has decreased in London, with gun crime falling by 14% in 2006. Gang crime is usually aimed at other gangs.
